ENTITLED TO MONOPOLY ELECTRIC LIGHTING OF NEW YORK THEIR CLAIM

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—In argument today before the appellate division of the supreme court, counsel for the New York Edison company contended that the company was entitled to a monopoly of the electric lighting business in the city under the "new state policy" of "regulated monopolies in place of competition."

Decision was reserved.

The argument was on a writ of certiorari to review the public service commission's act in granting the Longview Electric Light and Power company permission to issue $2,000,000 in stocks and $4,000,000 in bonds.

In behalf of the Edison company, Judge Morgan J. O'Brien insisted that the establishment of a competing company would make serious inroads in the established company's receipts without corresponding benefit to the public.

I'm Guilty and Ready for Prison, Says Minister

BOZEMAN, Mont., Dec. 15.—"I'm guilty, and there is no fighting," the Rev. J. E. Hedberg, former pastor of a Swedish church at Anaconda, said when arraigned on a charge of grand larceny today. The Rev. Hedberg is accused of obtaining $500 from a woman on a representation that it was for a dying widow. He says he is willing to go to the penitentiary.

"BUCKETSHOP" FIGHT HAS REACHED SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The national "bucketshop" fight inaugurated by the government some months ago, reached the supreme court of the United States today, when counsel for Louis E. Cella of St. Louis and Samuel W. Adler and Angelo Cella of New York filed notice that they would ask that tribunal to review the decision of the District of Columbia court of appeals, which held the "bucketshop law" constitutional.

OPPOSITION TO SENATE PROGRAM FOR IMMEDIATE TREATY CONSIDERATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Opposition to the senate program for immediate action on the Suler house resolution looking to the termination of the Russian treaty of 1822, is developing among some senators. It is based largely on the theory that any entanglement between this country and Russia would have the effect of bringing Russia into alliance with Japan, with the result of injuring the Oriental trade of the United States.

Many telegrams advancing this idea were received during the day, and most of these messages the senate was urged not to be precipitate.

This view will be presented to the committee on foreign relations when it meets next Monday in accordance with Chairman Cullom's promise to take up the resolution. Senators Cullom and Lodge have given assurance that the resolution would be reported after the Monday meeting but even then it might not succeed in getting through the senate so promptly.

Is Purely Committee Matter.

Senator Cullom has issued his call for the committee to meet at 11 o'clock Monday morning and he said today he felt there would be ample time for the consideration of the resolution. Suggestion has been made that Secretary Knox should be invited before the committee but as the committee's course was practically prescribed by the reference to it of the Russian resolution, it has been decided that it would not be expedient to invite possible opposition to the immediate action contemplated.

There is a possibility of ultimate delay on account of the changes in the composition of the house. Most of the senators believe the notice of adjournment provided for by the treaty must run for a year after the first of next January, succeeding action upon it. Senator Lodge has intimated his intention of offering an amendment making clear the language of the Suler resolution to cover this point.

If the committee and senate accept this view it will be necessary to send the resolution back to the house. If this should prevent action for both bodies before adjournment for the Christmas holidays there would be no further necessity for haste, as an entire year then would be left, which congress might "explore" itself. The house, however, will be disposed to act quickly in order to expedite the resolution to the president for formal approval.

DETECTIVE ACTIVE DURING LABOR TROUBLES, KILLED

DENVER, Dec. 15.—Rudolph Bartels, who was accidentally shot and instantly killed today at Lead, S. D., while being shown an automatic pistol by a friend, Ben Wilkenson, figured prominently in Colorado as a Pinkerton detective during the mining troubles in Telluride and the Cripple Creek district several years ago. He was closely associated at the time with Gen. Buikley Wells and at the time of the Moyer-Haywood trial at Boise, Ida., he was taking the prisoner from Colorado to that state. He was special guard for Harry Orchard during that trial. He is survived by a brother living in Gypsum, Colo. He left Denver two years ago to become chief detective for the Homestake Mining company.

THOUSANDS OF INSURANCE POLICIES ARE IN BALANCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The construction of thousands of life, fire, marine and accident policies involving millions of dollars, is claimed to hinge on the outcome of a legal contest that opened in the supreme court of the United States today over the payment of a life insurance policy carried by Samuel McCue, former mayor of Charlottesville, Va., who was hanged in 1905 for wife murder.

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company in its brief arguing why it should not pay the policy, declared McCue's children had no right to realize on the $15,000 policy because the insured died on the gallows in execution of a crime.

Hayes of Collinsville has a big lead over his competitors for the office of national vice president, according to the same report.

KING NOW MORE POPULAR

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The Times correspondent at Delhi, in a dispatch printed this morning, says: "All my inquiries tend to show that the king's durbar announcement of the transfer of the capital from Calcutta to Delhi is producing rising enthusiasm. "Grave political risks were taken, but apparently the danger is past."

DEFENDERS OF McNAMARAS

pled anarchy—and the labor leaders affiliated with them, have always boasted of the part they played in the trial of Moyer and Haywood and in this case they repeat their familiar tactics, and held mass meetings, and scattered broadcast papers and addresses in which they furiously denounced the effort to bring wrongdoers to justice and sought to excite the passions of the ignorant against all who uphold the cause of law or sought to put a stop to assassination and murderous violence.

It is worth noting that since McNamara confessed his guilt Mr. Moyer, the head of what purports to be a labor organization, is reported in the press as commenting upon it, not by denouncing McNamara for having committed the murder, but by denouncing him for having confessed it. Such denunciation is significant.

More Than Morally Culpable.

McNara is a murderer, and the common sentimentality or sinister wrongdoers who try to apologize for it as an "incident of labor warfare" are not only morally culpable, but are enemies of the American people, and—above all—enemies of American law and order. In honorable contrast to these men stand the various labor leaders who have never asked for more than a fair trial for the McNamaras, whose purpose has only been to get justice, and who now earnestly demand that murder shall be punished when committed in the name of labor, and that the law, and not the whims of a mob, shall be the guide.

I believe with all my heart in the American workingman. I believe with all my heart in organized labor, for labor must be organized in order to protect and secure its rights; and therefore with all my strength I urge every fellow American, whether man and woman who earn their livelihood as wage-workers, to see that their leaders stand for honesty, and obedience to the law, and to set their faces like flint against any effort to identify the cause of organized labor, directly or indirectly, with any movement which in any shape or way benefits by the commission of crimes of lawless and murderous violence.

field artillery from New York where he is living, that he is in possession of the facts regarding the destruction of the engineers' bridge. Reference to army records shows that he was at Fort Riley as the time and has since been discharged from the service. Colonel Hoyt has asked the former soldier to supply him with the details.

Suspects Not There at Time

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Dec. 15.—W. H. Mackey, deputy warden of the federal penitentiary here, formerly United States marshal for Kansas, who investigated the explosion and fire at Fort Riley, in an interview tonight said neither the Rev. Brewer nor Mrs. Anna Jordan were implicated in the crime.

Brewer, he said, was in Texas at the time and never returned to Junction City, Kan.

In explaining his investigation of the explosion, Mr. Mackey said that the person generally supposed to be Rev. Brewer, said to have been seen near the fort preceding the burning of the stables, was another clergyman, recently resembling the former chaplain and was taken for him.

Mr. Mackey said the damage done at the fort would not exceed $50,000, and that the report that it would amount to $1,000,000 was an exaggeration.

Mrs. Jordan Ready for Trial

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15.—Five hours after the police had released Mrs. Anna Jordan, held upon telegraphic orders from United States Commissioner Chase at Junction City, U. S. A., Deputy United States marshal arrived here to take her back to Junction City. Chief of Detectives Eickelsoe told the marshal he had released Mrs. Jordan because he had no authority to hold her longer. Chief Eickelsoe said tonight he telegraphed Commissioner Chase this morning that unless an order arrived by noon Mrs. Jordan would be released.

After her release Mrs. Jordan went to her mother's home where she announced her willingness at any time to stand trial.

PART OF DELHI CREW OFF

TANGIER, Dec. 15.—A modification in the weather late this afternoon permitted the rigging of a second breeches buoy from the steamer Delhi to the land, and 80 members of the crew of 150, who had stood by the vessel since she went aground, Wednesday, were taken off.

The passengers, except one with a broken leg, previously had been sent ashore. A special tackle is being made for the rescue of this man.

The captain and 40 members of the crew of the Delhi still remain on board, and when stormy weather abates, will make an effort to save the specie the vessel carries.

REFUSES TO GRANT PARDON

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 15.—By unanimous vote of the state board of administration, sitting as a parole board, today refused to grant the pardon of Charles L. Warriner, former treasurer of the Big Four Railroad company at Cincinnati, who confessed to embezzlements aggregating $642,000. Warriner has served about two years of a six years' sentence.

The private wealth of the people of the French republic is estimated at something over $1,000,000,000.

HOUSE OF LORDS PASSES NATIONAL INSURANCE BILL THROUGH FINAL READING

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The house of lords today passed the national insurance bill, providing for compulsory insurance against sickness and unemployment of the working classes, through its third and final reading.

The bill is now practically completed, only requiring to pass through the formality of receiving the king's assent.

The national insurance bill for workmen, which was finally adopted by the house of lords today, was presented to parliament for action by David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer. It is an adjunct to the already existing law providing old age pensions. Through the operation of this enactment, it is calculated, about 9,200,000 men and 3,900,000 women will be compelled to insure. Small deductions will be made weekly from their wages, and their employers will be compelled to contribute a similar amount to which the state adds a further contribution, these three items forming the premiums.

The deduction from wages and the employer's contributions will be graduated according to the insured person's earnings.

The benefits derived under the scheme will be medical relief, and a small sum for maintenance during illness, a life pension if permanently infirm, and also an allowance in case of unemployment, except when the idleness is a result of a strike.

SECRETARY OF WAR IS GUEST OF HONOR

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The interest of the public must dominate business, according to conclusions to which Secretary of War Dismore came to in addressing the Republican club of New York city here tonight.

"A few years ago, some of the large capitalists," the speaker said, "expected business to be through the submission of the people but they realize now they can get it only through submission to the people."

The Republicans gave the dinner in Secretary Dismore's honor, and many of the speeches were in tribute to him as a "credit to the administration, the nation and to the Republican party."

Charles D. Norton, former secretary to the president; Gen. Theodore A. Bingham, United States Senator; Hugh C. Bingham, United States Senator; Governor Franklin Murphy of New York; Gen. Francis H. Greene and Francis Hendricks were other speakers.

PREDICTS LEWIS' DEFEAT MINE WORKERS' ELECTION

BRIDGEPORT, O., Dec. 15.—An officer of the Ohio Mine Workers' union, who is a supporter of Thomas A. Lewis, said tonight that returning indicated Lewis' defeat for the presidency of the United Mine Workers of America by John P. White, incumbent.

Early returns from eastern Ohio localities indicated Lewis' victory over last year's vote, but later returns show he received a smaller vote than last year outside this district.

WOLGAST TO HONOLULU TO REST, IS REPORT

CADILLAC, Mich., Dec. 15.—Word was received here that Ad Wolgast, secretary of returning to Cadillac after he has recovered from his recent operation for appendicitis, will go to Honolulu for the winter. He will sail shortly after New Year.

Los Angeles, Dec. 15.—The report that Ad Wolgast would go to Honolulu after he had recovered from his operation from appendicitis could not be confirmed here tonight.

It was expected today that Wolgast would be able to leave the hospital in another week.

INVESTIGATION OF OHIO EXPLOSIONS IS ORDERED

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 15.—Dynamite explosions that have wrecked or otherwise damaged manufacturing plants in northern Ohio are to undergo grand jury investigation.

County Prosecutor John Cline and Detective William J. Burns had a conference here today, after which the county prosecutor announced that the Cuyahoga county grand jury, at its January meeting, would begin the investigation of the outbreaks. The authorities, Mr. Cline said, would have the assistance of Detective Burns.

Mr. Burns said today that he purposed claiming the rewards that were offered by various persons or organizations for the arrest and conviction of those guilty of the Los Angeles Times explosion. These, he said, totaled $7,500. Some of the offers were made by labor unions.

NO STAY IN WATER SUIT

MONETARY COMMISSION CONSIDERING MEANS TO AMEND ALDRICH PLAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—In an effort to dissipate any fear that a group of large banks might get control of the National Reserve association, the cardinal feature of the Aldrich plan of financial reform, the National Monetary commission is considering a plan to enlarge the powers of the district branches of the National Reserve association. Under the Aldrich idea the country would be divided into 10 districts or branches of the association. It is proposed to amend the plan so that the district association would elect 30 instead of 15 of the 45 national directors.

According to the proposed amendment each district branch would elect two directors, one representing the banks in the district and the other, not an officer or director of a financial institution, representing the industrial, commercial and agricultural interests of the community.

State bank officials, representing New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Montana, Washington and Texas today conferred with Comptroller of the Currency Murray in regard to reducing the number of bank examinations under the Aldrich plan. Unless some change is made, the state institutions would be subjected to examination by the comptroller of the currency in the National Reserve association and by numerous state authorities.

GERMANS WORKED UP BY KNOX SUGGESTION

BERLIN, Dec. 15.—The letter of Secretary of State Knox to Representative Charles Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives, suggesting an amendment to the tariff law that will permit the president of the United States by proclamation to levy additional duties upon imports of goods from powers discriminating against the products of the United States, or to prohibit them entirely, is attracting considerable attention.

The Tagesspiegel says that whereas in other countries the governments try to regulate commercial relations in a calm, steady and permanent way, the government of the United States apparently prefers to settle its differences as violently as possible.

The Tagesspiegel calls on the German government to refuse to extend to the United States the reduction recently given in commercial treaties to Sweden and Japan. It regards as singular that the reasons assigned in Mr. Knox's proposals against Germany are exclusively matters of considerable age.

The Tageszeitung thinks the adoption of Mr. Knox's suggestion probably would lead to a tariff war.

The Tagesspiegel believes Mr. Knox will have poor success in what it terms such radical course. The paper surmises that probably he does not intend to enforce it, and only desires to frighten the European states and make them drop on their knees before Uncle Sam.

The Morgen Post says the German government cannot avoid taking a clear and positive stand in the premises.

NEW DETAILS IN DYNAMITE CASES ARE UNCOVERED

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 15.—Government officials who are in cooperation with United States District Attorney Miller in conducting the investigation of the dynamite conspiracy before the federal grand jury learned from two sources today the details of explosions in which it is said others than the McNamara's were implicated.

W. A. Griffith, chief of police of Kansas City, Mo., who had knowledge of five explosions in Kansas City, was questioned about certain facts which it is said had never been revealed. These explosions all directed against structures erected by firms employing nonunion men, occurred from 1903 to 1910. His not more than two of them were confessedly the work of Orlie McManigal, chief Griffith's information was shifted to ascertain who else might have destroyed the property.

Much important testimony bearing on the records taken from the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers was obtained from Miss Mary Dye.

For several years Miss Dye was confidential secretary of the iron workers headquarters and in each had to do with the correspondence of J. J. McNamara, the secretary-treasurer.

Hotel Clerks Called.

Mrs. Andrew J. Hull, the former bookkeeper in the McNamara office, also visited the federal building.

Many hotel clerks from various parts of the country have been subpoenaed to tell what they know of the movements of McManigal while he was on his dynamiting expedition. The hotel men are to be questioned chiefly to corroborate McManigal's confession which he related visits to certain towns with a suit case filled with dynamite or with nitroglycerin.

It was intimated that from workers' officials were not opposing the government's efforts to expose all implicated in the dynamiting, the fact being pointed out that H. S. Hocking, acting secretary of the association, again conferred with District Attorney Miller.

It was while Hocking was absent that several wagon loads of papers recently were taken from headquarters. Hocking refused to say whether they were taken with his consent. About 30,000 papers are to be digested for the benefit of the grand jury.

ECHO OF MADRAY CASE
Benjamin Marks, Charged With Protesting Principals in Fake Sports Swindle, on Trial

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Dec. 15.—Iowa politics, charges by council that witnesses were kidnaped by federal officers, and the furnishing of Council Bluffs police protection by the defendant, featured the first day's proceedings in the trial of Benjamin Marks, charged with conspiracy in connection with the $1,000,000 fake sports swindle for which John C. Mabry was convicted of being the chief actor.

Maybray, who just concluded a term in the government prison at Fort Leavenworth, will be one of the state's chief witnesses in the present case.

Attorney General Rosen, in his statement to the jury declared that he would show that Marks had accepted, at first $8, and then 9 per cent of the loot secured as a result of the Maybray operations for "fixing" the police of Council Bluffs and Northwattamie county officials.

MAY DISMANTLE PARIS OF MAINE TO SOCIETIES, CITIES AND SURVIVORS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Portions of the wreck of the battleship Maine, now being raised of mud and debris in Havana harbor, are to be given to cities, patriotic societies and the survivors or heirs of survivors of the Maine, under a plan presented to the house today in the urgent deficiency bill.

The bill carries $2,700,000. It authorizes an additional appropriation of $500,000 for raising the Maine, making a total appropriation of $800,000 for the purpose. The bill would authorize the secretary of war to give some portion of the wreck to the republic of Cuba for incorporation in a public monument to be erected in Havana. It would also authorize the secretary of war and navy to give pieces of the battleship, of its equipment, or the property found in it, to any municipality of the United States or to any military or navy or society in the United States, or to the former officers and crew of the Maine or their heirs or representatives.

Must Pay Expenses Incurred.
The only conditions upon which these grants would be made are that the parts can be recovered and removed without interfering with the general work of removal now being done by the war department; that the labor and cost of securing them be paid by the city or society getting the relic, and that reasonable assurance be given the government that they would be properly preserved and cared for and not disposed of without the government's consent.

The work of raising the wreck is nearing completion.

The urgent deficiency bill will be pushed through the house tomorrow, it is said, and passed in the senate early next week. The money now in hand will be used up by the war department, December 20, at the expiration of which the department of claims will be advised the appropriation committee that if the wreck is to be turned to the United States, an additional expense of $100 a day will be necessary.

The bill includes $500,000 for further work in the census bureau, a cut of 25 per cent from the estimate, $500,000 to complete two revenue cutters now building at Newport News, for which $150,000 was appropriated last year; $150,000 mileage for members of the house; $17,000 mileage for senators; $25,000 for public buildings; and $27,230 for the bureau of engraving and printing, because of the unexpected demand for new small bills.

CONVICTED "HOLY GHOST" PLANS TO CARRY NO WORK

DURHAM, N.C., Dec. 15.—Plans for the continuation of the work of the Holy Ghost and its society of Shiloh, after its leader, the Rev. Frank W. Sanford, is sentenced next Monday for causing the deaths of six persons on the yacht Coronet, were announced by Mr. Sanford today. He said that the Rev. Charles E. Holland, one of his lieutenants, would be in charge of the sect.

"I have been commissioned by God," Sanford said, "to play this part in the evangelization of the world. God has told me to do these things and he will back me up. The world will say that I have lost, but there will be another court and I will be the chief witness. Personally I feel like a bugger sounding the charge rather than a disgraced man going down."

DENVER, Dec. 15.—Walter L. Hoyt, expert metallurgist, and the man who has looked after the smelter interests of Dennis Shedy for many years, is dead of heart trouble in Chicago. He was on his way to Perth Amboy, N. J., to build and operate a smelter plant for the Shedy interests.

Mr. Hoyt came to Denver 30 years ago. He built the Globe smelter here. He left Denver 10 years ago for Australia, where he had oversight of a refinery six years. He then returned to Denver and took charge of the Globe plant.

'The Christmas Stocking
As stockings for Christmas gifts seem to be peculiarly appropriate, probably because of the old idea of hanging up the stocking at that time, we are putting up some splendid assortments of the best makes of hosiery in attractive holiday boxes. We will arrange these boxes to suit your taste and pocketbook. Don't forget that your wife, your daughter or your sweetheart will appreciate a pair of nice stockings or, better still, a box of them, and that there is no store in town where you can see a handsomer assortment of better goods at lower prices than right here. And, by the way, a man is just as apt to appreciate a pair of hose for Christmas as a woman.

"SHOOTING SHOW GIRLS" ARE ACQUITTED BY JURY

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—A verdict of not guilty was returned late today, freeing Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad of criminal charges on which they had been held since last June for shooting the millionaire sportsman and hotel proprietor, W. E. D. Stokes.

The jury reached its verdict in slightly less than one hour.

The "shooting show girls" were tried on an indictment of three counts, the first charging an attempt to murder Stokes. Of consideration of this count, however, the jurors were relieved by Justice Marcus at the request of the district attorney. The court restricted the jury to the second and third counts, which charged, respectively, assault in the first degree with intent to kill, and assault in the second degree with intent to do bodily injury.

When summoned to hear the verdict, Miss Graham appeared unstrung, and was assisted into the court room, trembling. The more spirited Miss Conrad came unassisted, but nervous.

When the girls faced the foreman he announced the words, "Not guilty." Miss Conrad cried "Thank God" and went into violent hysterics. She sank to the counsel table, then jumped up again, shrieking and tearing her hair and throwing her arms about wildly.

It was a surprise to the spectators for Miss Conrad had much the better nerve throughout the trial.

Miss Graham, who continually wept during the trial, sobbed the more when she heard the verdict, but recovered herself when she saw her companion so affected, and acted as comforter.

Thought She Misunderstood.
It was at first thought that Miss Conrad had misunderstood the verdict and her companion tried to assure her that they were free.

"Oh, I know," she said, "but mother we are free. Tell her we are coming home."

The girls' hysteria continued 10 minutes.

The jury arrived at its verdict after four ballots. On three of them the jurors voted each time 11 to 1 for acquittal, the one man dissenting being in favor of a conviction on second degree assault.

The summing up arguments which Assistant District Attorney Bickner made against the girls was dramatic. He flourished the revolver with which the girls had shot Stokes and punctuated his recital of the shooting by frequent snaps of the trigger.

He referred to the contention of counsel for the defense that Mr. Stokes could not be punished and that the girls had been punished enough. He said:

"Perhaps it is no punishment for a man with a six months' bride and a 15-year-old son, to have such things hawked about him in every village and town as have been published in this case. And how have these girls been punished? While Stokes was nursing his wounds they hung his bloody trousers outside of a theater and asked the public to deposit his money in the box office."

JOHN W. KNIGHT NOT FULLY

Was Member Defunct Cotton Firm of Alabama Charged With Defrauding Buyers

MURKOVILLE, Ala., Dec. 15.—The jury trying John W. Knight, charged with fraudulent use of the mails in connection with forged cotton bills of lading, tonight returned a verdict of not guilty.

Knight was a member of the defunct firm of Knight, Yancy & Co., of Decatur, Ala., who was charged with forging bills of lading for cotton and thus defrauding buyers in this country and abroad out of millions of dollars.

Knight admitted, on the witness stand, to draw bills of lading without having the cotton, but said traffic officials of railroads gave him permission to do so and to furnish the cotton later.

BUSINESS SITUATION MOST ENCOURAGING

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

"The betterment in industrial and trade conditions, signs of which have been visible to close observers for two months, has now become plain to all and now is reflected by the expansion in bank clearings and railroad earnings, the big uplift in the iron and steel trade, the advance in copper, the increased activity in dry goods, the brisker demand for money, and in the confidence inspired by the record-breaking cotton crop of upwards of 15,000,000 bales. Business men are disposed to move ahead, and the situation as the year draws to a close is so much more encouraging as to be the year's most conspicuous development. The holiday trade is notably active in all the large cities.

"This retail activity, coupled with the unusual warm weather and the end of the year's accounting operates to make wholesale operations slower, but there has been no real check to the expansion in business. The outlook for the new year is exceedingly promising. In the dry goods trade the most notable development is the betterment in colors and worsteds. Silks are also stronger. Leather is dull, but prices are firm. Hides are weak.

"Each week serves to emphasize the pronounced betterment in iron and steel. Operations at mills and furnaces are on an enlarged scale, and several plants now idle will start again after the close of this month. The November statement of the United States Steel corporation was particularly favorable. Prices are strengthening slightly. Following the heavy decrease in copper stocks last month, quotations have advanced within a fraction of 10 cents.

GREELEY WOMEN DISCUSS PROPER CARE OF GIRLS

GREELEY, Colo., Dec. 15.—Sex instruction by parents was advocated as the principal solution of the delinquent girls problem at a meeting of the Social Science club. Society women read papers on the subject and a general discussion followed. In addition to instructions regarding sex, better discipline, more careful supervision and better knowledge as to their daughters' whereabouts were urged upon mothers.

Mrs. Josephine Cheesman, one of the speakers, said:

"The fundamental trouble, I believe, is ignorance on the part of the children, and neglect on the part of parents to keep themselves informed as to the character of associates and lack of knowledge as to how their time is spent. Ignorance on the part of the girl, combined with poor discipline in the home, is among the causes of the large number of girls who go wrong."

The opinion was expressed that the girl question is growing a serious one in Greeley, and instances were cited to prove this assertion where mothers were in total ignorance of their daughters' whereabouts night after night.

PLACES BAN ON ABSINTHE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Declaring absinthe dangerous to health, the pure food board of the department of agriculture today decided that its importation into the United States should be prohibited after January 1, next. The order awaits the signature of the secretary of agriculture before becoming effective.

"It is well recognized in all countries that have had experience therewith," says the decision, "that the use of this beverage is a health hazard and is dangerous to health."

A long and careful investigation was made by the bureau of chemistry before the action was reached. Dr. Wiley, head of the board, expressed the opinion that "absinthe is one of the worst enemies of man, and if we can keep the people of the United States from becoming slaves to this demon we will do it."

The decision has been sent out in tentative form to importers and other interested parties, and suggestions from them will be awaited before the secretary of agriculture makes the decision.

WORKING HARD TO GET XMAS DINNER FOR POOR

The Salvation army's campaign for Christmas dinners, which will be donated to the poor of this city and immediate vicinity, is progressing favorably. According to Ensign Reno, the organization hopes to provide over 200 baskets of Christmas food to those who otherwise would be without a feast of any sort, and to some who probably might not have food of any kind on that day of good cheer.

The public is responding to the appeals made by the army, but there is need for a great deal more than has yet been donated. Edibles of all kinds, such as meat, poultry, and vegetables, are earnestly solicited for this occasion. Donations of any sort may be made to persons in charge of the Salvation army Christmas kettles, or to Ensign Reno.

POULTRY SHOW, MOST SUCCESSFUL ON RECORD HERE, CLOSES TONIGHT

Judging and scoring of the fowls on exhibition at the poultry show closed yesterday afternoon, and now the only contest left is the egg-laying competition between the pen of Buff Orpingtons and the pen of Buff Wyandottes. At 5 o'clock last night, when the hens were off the job for 12 hours at least, the Buff Orpingtons were ahead by just one egg, 13 being the number in the case just outside the pen. The contest will close tonight at 5 o'clock, and the hatchery supposed to do the "home stretch" today.

Yesterday the school children were admitted free to the show, and an unusually large crowd also attended the exhibition. The show has been pronounced the most successful ever given here, not only in size but in regard to the quality of the poultry exhibited. In many instances the decisions of the judge for awards have been very close among contestants of the same class. The show will close tonight at 5:30 o'clock.

PARK COMMISSION FLOODS RESERVOIR

The laying of the pipe line from Cascade and Williams avenues to reservoir No. 1 in Monument Valley park, was practically completed last night and the lake will be flooded tonight.

This line was laid as a result of an experiment made by the park commission a few nights ago. It borrowed a quantity of fire hose and connecting it to a plug on Cascade avenue, flooded the lake on the lake to make it smoother. The experiment was a decided success and they ordered the pipe line laid. Lines probably will be laid to all reservoirs in the park that are within reach of a water main.

Yesterday afternoon it was estimated that about 500 people were skating on reservoir No. 1.

PASS NEW ORDINANCE

Some of the things which the new gasoline ordinance prohibits, so far as the housewife is concerned, are: Gasoline shall be purchased in glass bottles or any vessel other than the authorized safety gasoline cans. Gasoline cannot be used within a dwelling house for cleaning purposes. Gasoline kept in a home for domestic use must be stored away under certain restrictions. The new ordinance yesterday passed first reading and has been sent to the printer. Many of the changes in the ordinance which were urged by automobile men and citizens are incorporated in the proposed law. Among other things the city council authorized City Treasurer Bartholomew to sell paving bonds to the amount of $1,000, "in order to meet the necessary public expenses. These bonds will be taken up by the city and paid from one of the trust funds. J. K. Blahot was appointed clerk and bookkeeper to the water commissioner, by the mayor.

And he is doing it to the satisfaction of his patients. Just think of it, he is fitting those famous $1.00 glasses with great results. Come in and see him and have a talk. New reading lenses in your old frames 50c, or a whole new pair, $1.00. Ask your neighbors about him and tell them also. Help a new and good industry. Office 212 S. Tejon. Always on the job. Everything positively guaranteed for one year.

DELINQUENCY DECREASING

Installation of modern educational methods are said to be responsible for the great decrease in the number of juvenile delinquents whose cases have passed through the local juvenile court this year, according to a report issued. Ninety per cent of the delinquents who came under observation of the court were treated with probationary methods. It is said that a large majority of cases were of truancy and running away from home.

Notice

So many men buy Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets for their wives each year that it is almost impossible for Hoosier agents to get enough to go around.

We bought more this year than last—all we can get before Christmas.

But whether or not we have enough, we can't tell.

We do know one thing, though. If one-half the women who want Hoosier Cabinets this year, get them, we can't begin to supply all the orders that will follow this announcement.

Part of our present stock is reserved already. The rest of the cabinets we have will be reserved as fast as the orders come.

Perhaps it would be better, therefore, not to postpone your order if you really want one of these Christmas Hoosier Cabinets. There may be plenty. They MAY be sold out tomorrow. We suggest that the safer plan is to order your cabinet immediately.

BASKET BALL SEASON FORMALLY STARTED

The basket ball season was started last night at the Y. M. C. A. by a dinner tendered the Grand High School Bible Study basketball league. Eighty-one grammar school boys were present, and the organization of Bible study and basketball teams was effected. Addresses were made by E. W. Barnes of Colorado college, J. W. Erpa, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. and George D. McMill, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. W. W. Flora presided.

Professor J. C. Kenwell, principal of the high school at Fountain, and the Fountain high school basketball team also were guests at the dinner. The boys were taken to the gym to see the indoor basketball game between the Powell-Doner and the Holy Name teams after the dinner.

The next meeting of the league will be held next Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. building. Bible study classes will start work at that time.

HOLY NAME TEAM PLAYS FAST GAME

The Holy Name indoor basketball team defeated the Powell-Doner team by a score of 3 to 1 in the Y. M. C. A. floor last night. The game was one of the fastest and most exciting ever played in Colorado Springs and was principally a fight between pitchers.

Up until the eighth inning the score was 1 to 1, and it was only by a fluke on the part of St. John, pitcher for the Powell-Doner, that the game was lost. At a time when the bases were full St. John pitched a wild ball, but recovered it in time to put the runners out at home, only to have one of his own men run into him and make him drop the ball. Two men crossed the plate, showing the Holy Name score up too high to be reached in one inning.

Barnes, pitcher for the Holy Names, was the principal figure in the game and played in the line through out the evening, both by his excellent pitching, striking out 23 men, and by his batting, getting two of the five hits of his team.

Two double plays were made by the P.-D. team—Gregg to Bossart and Dickerson to Bossart.

The Holy Names secured three runs, five hits and made two errors. The Powell-Doners secured one run, two hits and made no errors.

EX-FOOTBALL STAR OF U. OF C. IS IN TROUBLE

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—An injunction against Walter H. Eckersall, former star quarterback on the University of Chicago football team, was issued by Judge McDonald in the superior court late today. The injunction was issued to restrain Eckersall from annoying or interfering with his wife, who has filed suit for divorce.

Mrs. Eckersall charges her husband with cruelty and nonsupport.

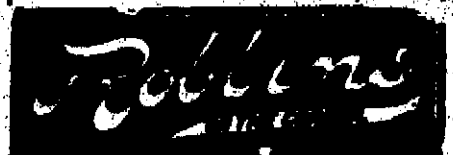

TWO PLAYERS RELEASED

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The New York Americans announced tonight that pitcher Harry Ables and outfielder Eddie Wilkinson were released today to the Oakland Pacific Coast league club. Ables played with the Oakland team last season, out was to have reported to New York next year. Wilkinson formerly played with San Jose.

The results of last night's play in the Brunswick three-cushion billiard tournament are as follows: Robbins won from Percival, Nye won from Purdue, Davis won from Blood.

little fellow who was a pretty good article in the game of fistfists, was jolted hard. It was just about as nice a wallop as ever landed. Fellow straightened up stiff and went flat, the back of his cranium hitting the floor hard. When he came out of it the first thing he said was "How sweetly the birds do sing."

Follows, talking about it afterwards, said that the sensation wasn't unpleasant, but when he came to what a headache!

When Jack McCormick knocked out Kid McCoy in about half a round in their first fight, the first thing the Kid said when he opened his eyes was "What happened?"

MANY BOXERS SEEKING BOUT WITH M. GIBBONS

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Reports from New York that it was next to impossible to find the new boxing wonder, Mike Gibbons of St. Paul, has aroused a volley of challenges from Chicago members of the fist profession. Spike Kelly, Ernie Zanders and George "Knuckout" Brown all are ready to swap punches with the "phenom" and are willing to enter the ring at the welter-weight limit, but none of these care to state what the welter limit is.

Nate Lewis, manager of Brown, declared that he would willingly sign articles with Eddie Reddy, manager of Gibbons, for a bout of from one to 45 rounds (the million-buck proposition) in the country. It was reported tonight that James Coffroth, San Francisco promoter, is after a match between Brown and Gibbons for his New Year's day card, which was to have been filled by Packey McFarland and Ad Wogast. Brown is in California, now, and has made considerable headway with the coast fans in his training stunts by his aggressiveness. Coffroth has seen Brown work and is anxious to add the "GIFER" middle-weight to his card.

Lewis declared that he would send his man against Gibbons at the welter-weight limit or middle-poundage, leaving the weight decision to Gibbons. Mike is a 160-pound man who can make 145 with ease. Like all boxers, he does not care to give away weight and it may be he will demand that Brown come in at the welter limit. Brown is a small middle and has been giving away weight to every man he has met in the last year. He and Gibbons are about the same size and, while Brown is no match for the St. Paul marvel in speed and cleverness, he is aggressive enough to make Gibbons fight from going to sons.

In a 20-round bout Brown would have a better chance to get Gibbons than in a short bout. Gibbons had gained a reputation as a defensive boxer and it would take Brown more than 10 rounds to get to Mike, for Brown relies on his forcing tactics to beat his man.

Bantamweight Champion Johnny Coulon has accepted the deft hurled at George Stallings, manager of the Buffalo Eastern league club, who is mentioned by President Fogel of the Philadelphia National league baseball club to become manager in the place of Charles Bealin, whom President Fogel says "can never manage the Phillies again while he is connected with it." Stallings at one time managed the New York Yankees.

CATCH OF FUR SEALS IS SOLD IN LONDON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The entire catch of fur seals of the Pribiloff islands, killed by agents of the American bureau of fisheries during the season just closed and amounting to about 13,000 skins, was sold in London today at about the same average price which the skins brought a year ago, when $250,000 for a small number was turned into the United States treasury.

TO TRY AND SAVE PROPERTY NICARAGUA'S EX-PRESIDENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—C. Alfonso Zelaya, son of the deposed president of Nicaragua, accompanied by his wife and son, arrived here today from Washington.

Zelaya is on his way to Nicaragua where, he said, he would attempt to frustrate the efforts of that government to confiscate property worth $2,000,000 belonging to the Zelaya family.

Zelaya said that his father was in Belgium and that probably he would remain there for some time.

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Taking of testimony before the Cook county grand jury in the case of Mrs. Louise Vermilya, charged with poisoning Policeman Arthur Bignnette, was terminated in an unexpectedly short time today. Although no report was returned it was indicated that the grand jury had reached a conclusion.

Assistant State's Attorney Fairbanks said the report of the grand jury probably would not be made for two days.

THE announcement that the Visiting Nurse Association will immediately begin the sale of Red Cross stamps, or seals, in Colorado Springs is welcome. The first sale of the seals in this city two years ago was a means of adding several hundred dollars to the fund for the construction of Sunnyside Sanatorium, and again last year considerable revenue was earned in this way by the Associated Charities. The Red Cross seals are now firmly established in public favor, and thousands of people gladly use them each holiday season not only because the money spent for them is an indirect contribution to charity but because they add a touch of holiday cheer to Christmas packages and letters.

The stamps are to be sold in stores by nurses, and with the exception of a small percentage paid the National Red Cross Association the entire receipts will be used to advance the work conducted locally by the Visiting Nurse Association. This useful organization is not as well known to the public as it deserves to be. Under the direction of a number of public-spirited women it maintains three trained nurses whose services are at all times available for the care of such sick persons as are unable themselves to bear the expense of proper nursing.

Within the last seven months these nurses have made about 1,400 calls and the need of their services is so great that another nurse will be added to the staff next month if enough money can be raised. Indeed, the usefulness of the organization is limited only by its revenues, and since it is dependent entirely on voluntary contributions it is the plain duty of the public to give the needed support. Between now and Christmas day not less than $1,000 worth of Red Cross seals should be sold in Colorado Springs. They cost one cent apiece, and one of them ought to be pasted on the back of every letter, and two or three on every package sent out of the city. Every seal sold is an additional weapon in the fight against disease and suffering, for it means another cent added to the funds spent in this humane cause.

Be sure to buy Red Cross seals and buy them early. Whether you spend a dime, or a quarter, or a dollar, or more, whatever the amount, the money will bring relief to some sufferer and give a more cheerful appearance to your holiday packages and mail matter.

PROMPT VS. SLOW PAYMENT

SAID A Colorado Springs merchant yesterday:

"It's no trouble to sell goods in this town. Our business is usually good the year round, and our holiday business is especially good this season. But it does make us get up and hump to stay ahead of the game sometimes, simply because of slow collections. I don't mean that times are hard—on the contrary, Colorado Springs is prosperous. Our customers are mostly people in easy circumstances who want goods of high quality and do not haggle over prices. But a lot of them are dreadfully slow pay simply through indifference. They don't seem to realize how important it is to a merchant to keep his stock moving, and to get the money for it with reasonable promptness. Our stock moves fast enough, but sometimes it is pretty hard to get the money when we need it most. We have eight or ten thousand dollars' worth of accounts on our books, practically all of which are good, but we can't afford to let them run month after month. Can't you say something as a reminder to the many people who can afford to pay promptly but are merely too indifferent to do it?"

This is the reminder. Few business men are rich enough to allow their accounts to run indefinitely, for in the aggregate they absorb the entire working capital. Of course a debtor can't pay his bills when he hasn't the money; this article is written as a suggestion to those who for no reason in particular prefer to let their money stay in the bank and their bills to remain unpaid.

A REMINDER

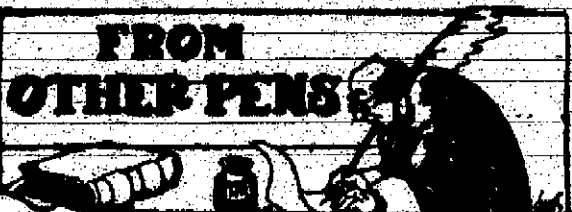

THE Herald-Telegraph has called La Follette a "political firebrand." On December 9 we pointed out that a generally or an epithet is of value only when it can be backed up by specific instances. The evening paper was requested to enumerate the incendiary measures attributed by La Follette which entitled him to the appellation in question.

A careful examination of the editorial columns of The Herald-Telegraph for an answer has been fruitless. It may, therefore, act as a reminder to cite a few of the measures with which La Follette's name has been associated.

La Follette secured the primary election law for Wisconsin. While governor of that state he also secured the passage of an antilobby law, an antipass law and a corrupt practices act. He secured the passage of a law requiring railroads to pay taxes on the valuation of their physical property at the same rate as paid by other properties.

As a Representative in Congress he was prominent in securing the passage of the law establishing the Interstate Commerce Commission. As Senator he has fought for adequate control and supervision by the Commerce Commission over interstate railroads; he fought for a downward revision of the tariff; he introduced a bill providing for a representative tariff commission with broad powers; he recently introduced a bill to amend the Sherman law by defining what constitutes unreasonable restraint of trade.

Which of these measures have the "firebrand" quality?

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

That American railroads lose and waste a total of about $170,000,000 worth of fuel annually is the startling report of Chief Engineer L. C. Fitch, of the Chicago Great Western. Fitch's report follows an investigation undertaken as a result of the statement some time ago of Louis Brandeis, that railroads in this country waste $1,000,000 a day in inefficient service. Waste is one of the great vices of Americans and it is not surprising, perhaps, that it extends to the operations of the great corporations. National thrift is our great sin. We are the most prosperous country on the globe, and the most profligate. Some day we shall probably be more saving. But we are taking a long time to make a beginning.

PLUM PUDDING FOR INDIA.

From the Chicago Tribune.
King George and Queen Mary have traveled to India for the Delhi jubilee like a royal Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, carrying with them gifts for the Indian princes and nobles, 1,000 plum puddings, each the size of a football.

Ten tons of the "makin's" went into these puddings, which were boiled over a gigantic furnace until they were three-quarters cooked. Each pudding was sealed in a bag, stamped with the royal cypher, and packed in a wooden box. Instructions for the cooking were tied to the bag. Then gallons of cognac and sherry from the king's cellar were hoisted into the hold of the steamer Medina, which was to carry the emperor of India to his subjects, and the feast was assured of its proper flavor. If there was an upset in India, which plum puddings can quiet, the king would be allayed.

But not to trust too much to even the magical power of pudding, the Medina was filled with plum cake, York hams, and Stilton cheeses, with laces, linens, and leather goods, velvet, paintings, photographs, books, puppies, kittens, canaries, and rare works of gold, ivory and jade.

The Medina, when it steamed away, was a treasure ship, and India, dreaming restlessly of independence, is to find its loyalty firmly anchored to plum pudding and strengthened by the many other evidences of royal good will.

SCHOOLS AS SOCIAL CENTERS

From the Christian Science Monitor.

A majority of the members of the board of education of Kansas City are committed to the idea of giving the public the use of the school houses when the houses are not in use as schools. The Star puts it in another way by saying that a majority of the school board favors "putting the school properties to work" for longer hours than simply those for the ordinary education of children. The sentiment that has brought about this attitude of thought in the Kansas City board of education is of a piece with that which has become practically national, and is an outgrowth of popular contemplation of the school house that is often silent, unused, seemingly useless in the neighborhood which, as a neighborhood, stands in need above all things of a social center.

The school house is a public building, erected at public cost, primarily for the advancement and protection of the public interests. It is directly to the interest of the public that the children of the community should be educated, and that this end in view certain school hours are fixed. But the school houses are never more than partly used for educational purposes in the ordinary sense. Millions more than six hours for five days a week. They are idle 18 hours out of every 24 for five days; they are altogether idle for two whole days. Why should they be so, when they may in their idle hours be usefully employed as neighborhood social centers?

This is the question Kansas City and hundreds of other communities are asking and answering today. In reply to the intimation that the public may put the schools to improper use, the Star, in our judgment, hits the nail on the head by saying that the whole scheme of democratic government contemplates the exercise of discretion on the part of the people's administrative officers. This is only another way of saying that the use of the school houses by neighborhood organizations must be under the supervision and control of the community's governing body, and must be regulated as to time, place, and every neighborhood and community desire that all of their common affairs shall be regulated.

THE MEN BEHIND THE DYNAMITE.

From the Washington Star.

That the McNamara did not originate or finance the abhorrent work in which they participated is easily and correctly assumed. They were not of the intellectual grade to plan destruction on so complete a scale. They had not the capacity to pay out of their part of the hideous program. They were the willing tools of others, and now the question relates to tracing matters to their source. This should be done. With the utmost care, of course. Nothing in revenge. Nothing for the purpose of extracting a sensation of world-wide interest. But everything for justice. Everything for completely destroying all possible every vestige of influence that have conceived and pushed forward such performances.

Who are the men behind the dynamite? Who subscribed the money, and how much was required, for creating the terror and destroying the lives and property associated with the long list of horrors the public, as the result of the confessions of the McNamara, is now considering? If it is possible to identify them and bring them to the bar for trial, every consideration of justice and public safety calls for that proceeding. Why should they escape, and only two of their infamous agents, confessed, be punished? The principals should by all means be run down and made to bear their share of the penalties incurred.

In the political world an individual much discussed in the past—Bastard and bull—has stuffed are exposed, and subsequently sent to prison, but unfortunately for the integrity of the suffrage, those who organize such work and accept the usufruct of it are never apprehended. They are the ones against whom the full forces of the law should be brought to bear.

In this dynamite business nothing should be left undone by the authorities to trace all the details of the infamies to their source. The McNamara were a pair of willing tools, indescribably wicked, but the main and most important quarry is yet at large. The "put up" for work which, for appalling possibilities and appalling performances, has seldom been equaled in the history of crime?

TOO MUCH BOILED DINNER.
From the Kalamazoo (Mich.) Telegraph.
To whom it may concern: My wife, Mary Dinnerboiler, having left my room and board I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her after this date.—JOHN DINNERBOILER.

All people respect the worker; for industry always knocks and no one respects the shirker who stands on the street and talks. Here's the truth: (and let her in every man's ear be dinned!):

Half a day's work is better than a hundred years of wind. The looked on the looters keeping their money, trust, where they stood and smiled, and most of the bunch are sleeping today in the Potter's Field; oh, idleness was their fetter—they were it, and weakly grinned, not heeding that work is better than all that there is of wind. The street where the looters tread it, is fraught with a thousand tales of famine and lack of credit, and workhouses, cells and jails. The tale of the shiftless debtor, the tale of the thief who slunk; and bread that you earn is better than anything got by wind. There's only one thing—endeavor—that counts in this world of men; the day that is spent will never come back to you; life again! The siren of sloth—forget her! Let all of her wiles be thinned! An hour of real work is better than ages of futile wind!

She isn't unusually pretty.

She isn't exceptionally clever.

She isn't particularly witty.

She isn't strikingly stylish.

And I don't think even her best friend would call her exactly fascinating.

And yet she has converted a lover who was somewhat of a man about town into a husband who enjoys nothing so much as his own fireside and who, after six years of married life, appears to admire his wife and delight in her company almost as much as he did during the temporary aberration of courtship.

I suppose you are quite ready for the "why." Well, then, let me give it to you in a little incident, as I myself saw it, instead of in a direct statement.

A crowd of us were coming home on the train from an evening function in a distant town. There were several married couples and several engaged ones. As a rule you could have told the fiancé from the bride-to-be by the way they looked at each other.

Is the engaged chatted or gazed meaningfully into each other's eyes, while the married sat in meditative silence, or gazed out the window or—surest sign of all—read their newspapers?

But when you came to the seat, on which the little lady of my tale was perched beside her six feet of husband, you would probably have made a wrong diagnosis. My own attention was first drawn to them by hearing the husband laugh out—the ringing laugh of one genuinely amused. I turned to look at them and saw that the little person was smiling.

She was telling it not in the matter-of-fact married way, but with her hands and eyes, and with all the effort to please and amuse that she ever made in her engagement days. And her husband laughed out loud.

I wonder how many women who have been married six years, very often divorce and amuse their husbands so that they laugh right out loud.

I wonder how many women who have been married six years, ever talk to their husbands with the engagement days.

The woman who can make her husband listen and laugh—

The woman who can keep the fretful note out of her voice—

The woman who does not drop the engagement mantle the moment the honeymoon is over—

The woman who flirts with her husband occasionally—

This is the woman I'll back to keep her husband interested and in love long after the wedding has come, the hair has grown thin, and the budget of love has become faded.

I think she has twice as much chance of retaining queen of his heart for life, as the woman who does not take care for any of these things, but puts all her trust in powders and perfumes, and all her effort into keeping her prettiness as long as possible.

The Great Conflict

A Half Century Ago Today

DECEMBER 16, 1861

Excitement in the United States over the Mason and McDuffie affair was increased by a resolution introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Vallandigham of Ohio, recommending the "bold and patriotic action" of Captain Wilkes of the San Jacinto, in seizing the dispatches from the Confederate states to Great Britain and France while on a British steamer, and urging the president of the United States to approve and adopt the act. In spite of any menace or demand of the British government. The resolution was referred to the committee on foreign affairs. Mr. Vallandigham was suspected of a desire to precipitate the United States into war with Great Britain for the benefit of the southern states.

Henry C. Burnett and Judge Monroe were sworn in at Richmond, Va., as senators representing the state of Kentucky, which had lately been admitted as a member of the confederacy. The Confederate general, Zollicoffer, issued a proclamation at Beach Grove, Ky., to the people of southeastern Kentucky, assuring them that his only purpose in entering their country with troops was to drive out the Union soldiers, whom he charged were attempting their subjugation. He told them that the object of the war on the part of the north was to free the slaves, put weapons in their hands and give them social and political equality with the whites. He conjured them by all they held dear not to join the northern ranks, but to strike with the south for independence, and the preservation of property. (Copyright, 1911, by W. G. Chapman.)

SPRINGTIME IN THE JUNGLE

There's a Different Sort of Something When the Half-Green Things Begin to Awaken From Their Period of Rest—Like the Peeping Out of the Joy of a Most Happy World. Rudyard Kipling. From "The Spring Running" in the Jungle Book.

In an Indian jungle the seasons slide one into the other almost without division. There seem to be only two—the wet and the dry; but if you look closely below the torrents of rain and the clouds of char and dust you will find all four going round in their regular ring. Spring is the most wonderful, because she has not to cover a clean, bare field with new leaves and flowers, but to drive before her and to put away the hanging-on, over-surviving rattle of half-green things which the gentle winter has suffered to live, and to make the partly-dressed state earth, half new and young once more. And this she does so well that there is no spring in the world like the Jungle spring.

There is one day when all things are tired, and the very smells, as they drift from the heavy air, are old and used. One cannot explain this, but it feels so. Then there is another day—to the eye nothing whatever has changed—when all the smells are new and delightful, and the whisksers of the Jungle people quiver to their roots, and the winter hair comes away from their sides in long, dragged locks. Then, perhaps a little rain falls, and all the trees and the bushes and the bamboo and the mosses and the juicy-leaved plants wake with a noise of growing that you can almost hear, and under this noise runs day and night a deep hum. That is the noise of the spring—a vibrating boom which is neither breeze, nor falling water, nor the wind in tree-tops, but the pouring of the "warm" happy world.

Up to this year Mowgli had always delighted in the turn of the seasons. It was he who generally saw the first sign of the Spring deep down among the grasses, and the first bank of spring clouds, which are like nothing else in the Jungle. His voice could be heard in all sorts of wet, star-light, blossoming places, helping the frogs through their choruses, or in the little upside down owls that hoot through the white nights. Like all his people, spring was the season he chose for his fittings, moving for the mere joy of rushing through the warm air, 40, 50 or 60 miles between twilight and the morning star and coming back panting and laughing and wreathed with strange flowers. The four did not follow him on these wild ringings of the Jungle, but went off to sing songs with other wolves. The Jungle people are very busy in the spring and Mowgli could hear them grunting and screaming and whistling according to their kind. Their voices then are different from their voices at other times of the year, and that is one of the reasons why spring in the Jungle is called the Time of New Talk.

Poor Girls and Millionaires

[Copyrighted, 1911, by Laura Jean Libbey.]

What girl is there who does not dream of love and spend many an hour in secret wondering what the hero of her dreams will be like?

There are girls so rich but what these dreams come to them, and no girls so poor.

The heiress can make a choice among many suitors; the girl who toils for her daily bread trusts blindly to fate. Romance and hope go hand in hand through the lives of each.

There are a good many who think that the working girl dreams only of a millionaire lover who will one day seek her out to woo and wed her. Never was there a greater mistake than to form such an impression. Not one working girl in 10,000 is given to useless yearning for that one which she might live a lifetime yearning for and die without finding.

If you ask any one of these girls just what kind of a lover she would have, she will tell you frankly enough that she has no wish for a millionaire. She wants a plain, everyday young fellow in her own station of life who will have a heart full of love for her and ambition and energy to rise in the world. A man who will be the architect of his own fortunes, enjoying the same pleasures that she does, as they walk side by side through life.

The working girl is amiable enough to know that there is no happiness where a wedded couple are not in harmony with each other, where one feels superior to his mate and airs his opinion now and then.

There have been instances of working girls having married men of great wealth, and they have made exemplary wives and mothers. But these instances are few and far between. Those same histories, too, have recorded that there are some such marriages which have not turned out happily. The husband has wearied of the girl who had no charms to appeal to him when her youth and her beauty faded and she failed to keep up with him intellectually, preferring merely household duties to society.

The girl who works and thinks of girls. They not only read the romances in the magazines, but they read the domestic happenings in the daily papers as well. They are wise enough to reflect that the choice of a heart mate is a serious matter; that it is far better to choose carefully than to spend an actual life in regrets.

The poor young man of most habits need not be afraid to allow him aside in love's warfare. The parents of the working girl tell her that the poor young man is a golden prize; that he has few if any bad habits. He cannot drink all night or he would soon have to give up the position which he holds. He knows the making of his future depends entirely on himself, and that he is also responsible for the comfort and happiness of the wife whom he will take to his home.

If the poor girl is the sole support of an aged widowed mother she must be solely careful in her choice of marrying. The working girl's sincere desire is to promote future happiness instead of sinning in a transplanted sphere where gold is god, not love.

Lonely club. We brought together some 300 young people to enjoy meetings. We had at our command the best musical and dramatic talent to be secured; the most prominent men of the town were glad to address the club. We held informal dances and, as an instance, the entire membership enjoyed one of the greatest ballroom affairs ever given. Those who were strangers before soon found themselves surrounded by friends everywhere, and had no need of going to bed night after night with the chickens.

ANTISUFFRAGISTS AROUSED

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The antisuffragists have been roused to action by the recent violent demonstrations of the suffragettes. An important deputation of the National Antiwoman's Suffrage society, under the leadership of Lord Curzon of Kedleston, was received by Premier Asquith at his official residence on Downing street today.

The object was to secure the prime minister's cooperation in blocking the threatened enfranchisement of women by means of an amendment to the government's forthcoming franchise reform bill which includes the granting of votes to women.

Mr. Asquith expressed his hearty sympathy with the object of the deputation and agreed with them that to grant the franchise to women "would be a political mistake of a very disastrous kind."

The premier said he did not reject the suggestion that a referendum should be held on the subject but he feared that the verdict of such a referendum would not be accepted by the suffragettes unless women were permitted to vote in the referendum.

A Des Moines man had an attack of melancholia, and his physician, Dr. A. Friend, advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $100 or more. He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it, and found it in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Three days after the first application of this treatment he was well. For sale by all dealers.

BR. WALKER'S MISSIONS

TONIGHT

Rev. Mr. Walker, a dramatist of the name, will be seen presented here with practically the same cast as that which presented this most successful comedy for more than a year in New York. A brief synopsis of the play follows: The first act is an introduction to the most unusual occurrence of the next three acts and shows "Morty" Brewster in possession of a million dollars, which he must spend, legitimately, within one year in order to win an inheritance of $7,000,000.

The second act shows the young man in full swing spending money as recklessly as could be imagined. A great deal of comedy is the result.

The third act shows the steam yacht "Fitter," complete in all visible details and the marine effect as shown is perfect. The storm which takes place is most thrilling and is without doubt the finest piece of stage realism ever produced. The climax is worked out in this act. Brewster still has $500,000 left to spend and only two months to do it in. The fourth act and last shows "Morty" in his—and well, we won't spoil your pleasure by telling, just wait and see it.

"Morty's Millions" will be seen at the O. P. house tonight. The night prices are 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50; matinee prices are 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents.

NEW BILL AT MAJESTIC

TODAY SOUNDS CLASSIC

Of course the only way to tell how good a vaudeville bill is—in other words, how well you like it—is to see it, but one can get a pretty fair idea of how he is going to like it by looking over the list of acts, noting the personnel of the program and the nature of the various specialties. In looking over a bill, and considering the bill anyone familiar with the book of this circuit knows that the bill will be high class vaudeville anyhow, but there are varied degrees of entertaining vaudeville and a glance over the list of this week's attractions, opening this afternoon, indicates that the program is going to be one that will meet exceptionally high favor.

This would be certain to be true if only for one thing—namely, that there is lots of comedy in the program. The leading comedy act is the blackface stunt of Niblo and Riley, and their reputation assures that it will be a real mirth provoker. Then there are Frawley and Hunt, comedy acrobats, who will furnish a lot more fun, and in addition to them, Kate Fowler, the pianist whose songs are said to be laugh provokers.

In the musical line the offering is high class, with the Venetian Four, a brilliant company of Italian players, as the leading number, and Harry Jones and DeHarport, a clever trio of young men, another classy specialty. Besides these features, the exclusive Rex film shown by the Majestic, and the concert orchestra program will contribute to the enjoyability of the program.

Performances at 2:45, 7:30 and 9:10. Admission only 10, 20 and 30 cents. Get the Majestic Habit.

BUDAVIN CHARLIE SPOOTS

COLORADO RANGERS RIDER

His name, a Colorado Springs cowboy and expert rider, was shot and killed, falling from his horse while it was going at full speed, is Buckskin Charlie or one of his band of Utes near Cheyenne cañon this fall. Representatives of the Edison company were on the scene, however, and prevented further bloodshed, as all the Indians and the soldiers were needed to complete the production of the great military drama, "A Perilous Ride," which will be shown at the Crystal theater this afternoon and evening. This is the third of the Edison pictures taken here this summer to be presented in the Colorado Springs, and will undoubtedly attract as much interest as the other two did.

Two other reels are also shown, "Too Much Turkey," known as "The comedy with a thousand laughs," and a heart-gripping drama, "The Daughter of the Clown."

A PLEASANT PLACE

TO SPEND AN HOUR

Is the Odeon theater, located next to the postoffice on South Nevada avenue. It is so comfy and home-like in all respects and the pictures are always clear, brilliant and flickerless. In fact, the lack of eye strain is noticeable. They run a continuous show from 2 to 11 p. m., not stopping for supper. Music by Fink's orchestra. It is a pleasant place to spend an enjoyable hour and when on pleasure bent don't fail to visit the Odeon.

"RED RIDING HOOD" AT

CIVIC LEAGUE MATINEE

Through the offices of the Civic League, a special matinee for children will be given at the Lyric theater this afternoon, at which a program that will appeal to the "kiddies," as well as to the grown-ups, will be given.

"Red Riding Hood," the children's classic will head the program. This is a delightful picture, and will entertain the young people. Two delightful comedies will be given, an interesting travesty of the island of Teich, near Sicily, and the great Orpheum feature, the Pathé weekly, making five pictures besides the musical program, and Miss Marjorie Nash's songs.

At the evening performance, besides the Pathé weekly, the Essanay comedy, and "Red Riding Hood," an added feature will be Willie Collins' "The Moonstone."

Colorado City DEPARTMENT

TAG DAY TODAY

Today is tag day, and every resident who expects to be on the streets at any time of the day had better see that he has a little tag fluttering from the lapel of his coat, else he will be "held up" an innumerable number of times before he has walked a block.

At a recent meeting of the Colorado City Business Men's association it was decided to have a tag day to raise funds to purchase Christmas dinners for the poor. After outlining the general plans of the day, the association turned the matter over to a committee of women, headed by Mrs. Joe Knolls, which has completed the arrangements.

Clothing and other articles will be acceptable and will be distributed the day before Christmas.

Mrs. Lewis suffered a nervous shock, but was otherwise uninjured, her steel corset stays stopping the bullet.

INJUNCTION AGAINST MINERS IS DISMISSED

DENVER, Dec. 15.—The injunction which has been hanging over the heads of 2,000 miners of the northern coal fields, former employees of the Northern Coal & Coke company, succeeded by the Rocky Mountain Fuel company, which bought the mines, was today dismissed on application of Attorney Churchill, Whites and Glickman, representing the Rocky Mountain company so far as that company is concerned. It is generally believed that the object of the dismissal of the suit was to place the Rocky Mountain company in a position to go before the federal court and ask for an injunction.

Dr. Hugh Talbot Patrick of Chicago, one of the most noted neurologists in the world, has prescribed this course of treatment for Staley, who has been treated by every nerve specialist in the west and derived no benefit.

Several weeks ago Staley went to Chicago to consult with Dr. Patrick upon his nervous case. He wanted the physician to operate upon him, but the doctor declined to do this until he had given the new method of treatment a fair test.

DISAPPOINTING FOR WOMEN

MERIDAN, Conn., Dec. 15.—Unless Charles F. Corbin, son of the late Philip Corbin, head of the American Hardware company, married or becomes engaged before next Saturday, he will lose a considerable part of his share in the final settlement of his father's $5,000,000 estate. Corbin is not really in need of the money, which his father held out as a lure to the matrimonial noose, and marriageable young women throughout the state regard his indifference as most provoking.

In reply to a flood of inquiries, he says only: "I am not married; I do not expect to be married before Saturday, and, in fact, I do not expect to

Welcome Words To Women

If, you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from sickness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest square deal medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills. The makers of

for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. Is this not a significant fact worthy of careful consideration?

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines sold by druggists for their peculiar weaknesses and ailments because it is
